N. Lenox, Mokena Give To Water Resources Fund

The village boards of New Lenox and Mokena have each contributed $100 to the fund being raised by the Lower Des-Plaines Valley Water Resources Committee to raise funds for an engineering survey to determine the water supply of the region and the steps that should be taken to meet the needs of the future.

S.B. Westby, district manager of the Public Service Co. and chairman of the water resources committee, asked Mokena and New Lenox to aid in the project and a similar request will be made of Frankfort.

Electronics To Register, Sort Pupils

Data processing has come to Lincoln-Way high school. Next year Lincoln-Way students will be scheduled by the use of this new electronic equipment.

School officials indicate that the actual registration of 1,100 students can be completed by an electronic computer in a matter of two or three minutes.

In an effort to provide increase educational services to students, data processing has been incorporated giving the school an opportunity to conduct better grouping of students based on their academic ability and to increase the number of schedule choices.

Donald D'Amico, assistant principal, indicated that such services as grading, ranking, the computing of honor roll, and grade analysis, can be done in a more efficient and speedy manner. This information is then used by the guidance department to assist students in their educational plans.

See Merger Of Reiter And New Lenox Schools

Another school district merger is expected to take place before the end of May.

A petition has been filed with the Will County board of school trustees asking that the Reiter district be annexed to the New Lenox grade school district, No. 122.

The petition was signed by the three Reiter school directors and the seven members of the New Lenox board of education.

Hearing on the petition has been set for Tuesday night, May 28, in supervisors room in the courthouse at Joliet, according to Co. Supt. Verne E. Crackel, in his capacity as secretary of the board of trustees.

As far as is known there are no objectors to the move and under such circumstances it was expected that the board would approve the petition and order the change, effective on July 1.

The Reiter district has an area of approximately eight square miles. It runs pretty well across the south end of New Lenox township. The east end comes to within half a mile of the Frankfort township line and the western boundary comes to within half a mile of the Joliet township line.

The school building is on Laraway rd., between Manhattan and Cedar roads. It is a two-room building and the district has employed two teachers. The enrollment, however, is small. There are three or four pupils in the first four grades and 12 or 14 in the four upper grades. It was pointed out that it is becoming increasingly difficult to maintain an average daily attendance of 15 pupils, the number required for a district to qualify for state aid.

It is understood that the New Lenox district would make use of the building to house the four upper grades.

This will be the fourth change in school districts this spring. Schmulh school will become a part of the New Lenox district as will a portion of the Marley district, on July 1. The rest of the Marley district will be attached to the Mokena grade school district on that date, as will the part of the Weitendorf district north of U. S. 30. The part of Weitendorf south of Lincoln highway will be attached to the Frankfort district.

After July 1, if Reiter district is attached to New Lenox, there will be no two room schools left in the county, Supt. Crackel said. The one-room school is already a thing of the past as far as Will county is concerned.

The three directors of Reiter district who signed the petition to have it attached to New Lenox district are, Arnold A. Johnson, president Robert R. Reither, secretary and Kenneth Fritz. Members of the New Lenox board who signed are, William Heidrich, president; J. Earl Robinson, secretary; John B. Anderson, Jr., Harlow Jensen, Evans, Drotts, Roy Fitzer and Howard Handorf.

Hire Business Secretary To Serve Village Of N. Lenox

New Lenox village board has hired a business secretary Walter Rheinhard 62, a retired postal inspector and accountant, was given the post at the regular meeting of the village board last week. He is to begin his duties on or before June 1. His pay will be $2,400 a year. His duties will be varied but it was emphasized that he will not make policies, a function that is the exclusive province of the board of trustees.

Mayor Stanley Gilmore stated that with the growth of the community and increased demands for service by the public there should be someone available everyday with whom the people may take up their problems.

The appointment of the business secretary came toward the close of a long meeting that at times could have employed "Stormy Weather" as a theme song.

The appointment came after adoption of the budget of $62,600. When a motion to adopt the budget was made and seconded, Robert Bishop, new member of the board, moved an amendment which would have deleted $3,000 from the appropriation ordinance covering the salary and expenses of the business secretary's office.

On a roll call on the amendment the council was divided three and three, Bishop, Eugene Hunt and Robert Randolph voting for it and Chester Bowman, Don Anderson and Evans Drotts being opposed. Mayor Gilmore broke the tie by aligning himself with these against the amendment. The mayor had to vote again on the motion to adopt the budget, as the council voted three and three.

On the question of naming Rheinhard business secretary, however, Bishop went along with the program but suggested that the secretary's duties be put in writing, as much as possible. Hunt and Randolph who have been opposed to the business secretary proposal from the beginning, voted against the appointment.

"I want it understood there is nothing personal in this," Randolph said, "it is just that I don't see the necessity of hiring someone at extra money to do the work the trustees are elected to do."

Hunt too said that Rheinhard was a friend and he believed he was well qualified but he thought such an appointment unnecessary.

Rheinhard was in the postal service 40 years, 35 of them in the inspection division where he served as an investigator and accountant. He retired in October, 1962, and has been a resident of New Lenox since 1935.

Some of the duties of the new secretary were outlined by the mayor. He is to serve as a purchasing agent and check on deliveries; keep payroll records; keep tab on insurance needs; index and maintain a file of village ordinances; compile an agenda for village board meetings for prior announcement; answer questions for residents; coordinate and follow up village programs; assist in trying to attract industry to New Lenox; check tax books periodically to make certain all properties in the village are listed therein.

The business secretary will have his headquarters in the police court chambers. He will maintain office hours five hours a day, six days a week. He will have his office open one evening, probably Friday. He took two years of accounting and business at Northwestern university.

Proponents of the business secretary plan suggested that since some of his duties might now be performed by the village clerk the clerk's salary should be cut and amount thus taken applied on the secretary's pay.

Last year the trustees voted to pay the village clerk Robert J. McCleary, $800 a year, which was a raise of $400. At a recent special committee meeting $400 was lopped off the salary, to be applied to the business secretary's stipend.

Trustee Hunt wanted to know why McCleary's was the only one cut.

N.L. Board Seeks Views On Sidewalk Program

A survey is to be taken at New Lenox to ascertain public opinion on a general sidewalk program for the village.

Trustee Robert Randolph has been named chairman of a committee to catch the public pulse on this subject. Mrs. D.L. Buckler, chairman of the P.T.A. safety committee, told Randolph that the members of her committee would be glad to assist him in getting the opinion of the public on the sidewalk question.

Randolph said he would be glad to have their aid. Mrs. Buckler has been asking the council for action for the past year, urging that sidewalks be built along the streets on which the schools are located.

Mayor Stanley Gilmore reported that he had a figure of between five and eight thousand dollars for building approximately 5,000 feet of sidewalk along Cedar road, leading to Oakview school.

Randolph said he thought that a good price and added that while he was for the village spending money to provide safety for children who walk to and from school he believed that the program should be expanded to cover the entire village.

"As I understand it," Randolph said, "the cost of the sidewalk serving the schools would be borne by everyone. That will prompt many to say that if they are going to pay for sidewalks why shouldn't they benefit from them."

"I think we should endeavor to find out what the public thinks about this. If enough of the people want sidewalks why then let's get a program started. I believe that special assessments are usually employed for such purpose."

Trustee Don Anderson said he thought the idea was a good one and that Randolph should be the one to carry it thru.

Randolph is going to send out a letter to all residents, outlining the proposal and asking for their opinion.

N. Lenox Board Changes Meeting Night To Friday

Future meetings of the New Lenox village board are to be conducted on a different basis, Mayor Stanley Gilmore indicated at the organizational session held on Wednesday night of last week.

One of the duties of the business secretary hired last week will be the preparation of an agenda which is to carry not only a list of the subjects to be discussed but a summary of facts to provide background in some instances, the mayor said.

This material is to be circulated in advance so that the public is aware of the business at hand. The board is willing to hear the views of the public in fact it welcomes them, the mayor said, but a system is to be maintained whereby remarks from the spectators will be limited and confined to a certain period.

"We like to have the views of the public but we must also conduct our meetings on a business basis and not as a kaffeeklatch," Gilmore said.

Incidentally, beginning in June, the village board meetings no longer will be held the first Wednesday of a month but on the first Friday. The change in meeting nights was accomplished thru a vote over objections by Trustees, Eugene Hunt and Robert Randolph, who argued that Wednesday had been the meeting night since the village was incorporated 17 years ago and Hunt declared he could see no reason for the change other than that one trustee found it difficult to get there on Wednesday.

Hunt then tried to get the motion amended so it would require a two-thirds vote to change the meeting night but that too failed to carry.

Hunt argued that changing the meeting night to Friday would affect Village Clerk Robert McCleary.

McCleary is an executive at the New Lenox State Bank and the bank stays open Friday nights.

Whereupon James Hearn, who serves as village treasurer, volunteered to take the minutes. A little earlier Hunt had questioned the legality of hiring Hearn as treasurer because he no longer resides in New Lenox. Village Attorney William Penn said that as he interpreted the law a village official should be a resident. The board then indicated it would get a new treasurer but asked Hearn to stay on until a successor was found.

Trustee Chester Bowman said he would take the minutes of the Friday night meetings until such time as McCleary could take over. The board decided to have the meetings start at 8:30. The bank closes at 8 o'clock but it is usually three quarters of an hour to an hour before the work is completed there McCleary said. It was the board's belief that everything would work out O.K.

Have Perfect Papers In Math Competition

Two Lincoln-Way high school students, Betty Helgersen Mokena, and Gloria Heisner, Manhattan scored perfect papers in the interscholastic mathematics competition between Rich East high school and Lincoln-Way held last Friday evening.

While the contest was between only two of the eight schools in the Southwest Suburban conference, the meet was staged as a pilot for what the organizers hope will be an all-conference affair next year.

Two of the three areas of competition involved written exams while a third area was done on an oral basis.

Other Lincoln-Way students competing in the meet were: Competition A: Ronald Badter, Pat Bell, Alice Black, Paul Brown, John Bulanda, Greg Fant, Doug Florek, Herb Grotewold, Linda Hodge, Bob Horan, Dave Howell, Betty Gail Mitchell, Connie Morrison, Rena Mowatt and Larry Wallschlager.

It was a clear cut triumph for the proposal. There were 484 votes cast. Four of these were spoiled. Of the remainder 313 ballots were marked for the proposition and 167 against it. The bond issue passed by a plurality of 167.

The Mokena school board members were gratified with the results, and declared they will see that the addition is built as economically as possible, commensurate with the basic needs of the students for the best possible education.

Vases of gladioli and 'mums decorated the altar of the church, and appropriate songs were sung by Mrs. Ardieth Guendling, soloist.

The bride was escorted up the aisle by her brother, Leonard Hemmrich. Her gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, featuring a sabrina neckline, embroidered with pearls and sequins, and long pointed sleeves. Rows of Chantilly lace covered the full floor length skirt. A Swedish crown of pearls caught the full illusion finger-tip veil. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from the groom. She wore a circulet crown with an attached veil and carried a white testament covered with a white cymbidium orchid and accented with ivy. Preceding the bride to the altar, flower girls, Wendy Guendling and Debbie Gaskin dropped white rose petals down the aisle from small white baskets.

Soil Stewardship Week Will Begin This Sunday

Church leaders and soil conservation district directors throughout Illinois are planning soil stewardship observances that will begin Sunday, May 19 and run thru Sunday May 26, to call attention to the responsibilities for care and protection that go with land use and ownership.

This is part of the nationwide dedication of Soil Stewardship Week, sponsored annually by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Soil Stewardship Week had its beginning in 1946 when the publishers of Farm and Ranch magazine suggested to the religious leaders of a few southern states that they set aside one Sunday each year to remind their congregation of man's duty to be a good steward of the land. So great was the response of ministers and laymen that observance of Soil Stewardship Sunday rapidly spread to other states.

The association is the nationwide organization banding together the nearly 3000 local soil conservation districts, organized by the citizens of watersheds or counties, under provisions of their state laws, to get an effective conservation program applied to the land of America.

Each year since 1954, prior to Soil Stewardship Week, the association prints and distributes to ministers, priests and others, inserts to be used with their regular Sunday bulletins.

Where The Money Goes

(Industrial Review)

What's the cause of the present national debt, the further increase in that debt that is certain to occur this year, and the present level of taxation?

This is not so simple-minded a question as it may seem. A common answer is to attribute it to the cost of national defense, in an era when weapons are almost unbelievably expensive. And it is true that national defense accounts for roughly half of the total federal budget, and is still on the upswing.

But proportionately, as Nation's Business points out in its April issue, defense has not been the principal villain of the play. Since 1952 defense spending has risen 26 per cent, or $11 billion a year. But non-defense spending, in the same period, has risen 104 per cent, or $22 billion a year, precisely twice as much in dollar terms.

Moreover, Nation's Business goes on to show federal spending for non-defense purposes, which are in prospect, will rise on a wide variety of fronts. A partial list includes land, water and power projects; recreational facilities; fish and wildlife programs; urban renewal; public housing; rural electrification and telephone loans. And this is by no means the end. The magazine reports that public assistance will run to $3 billion next year, as against $2 billion in 1960--a jump of precisely 50 per cent. It will cost more, so far as one can see now, to support Congress, the judiciary, the Internal Revenue Service, veteran's services--in sum, just about everything the government does, plans to do, and wants to do. Areas where cost reductions are planned are almost as scarce as hen's teeth, and that is the basic problem that surrounds Mr. Kennedy's mired-down plan for tax reductions.

It is the most obvious of truisms to say that all of us would like to pay less in taxes. Yet the administration program has not found the response that was anticipated, either within or without Congress.

The "Why" of that is not difficult to discover. For one thing, some of the changes in tax policy--the alleged "reforms"--that are part of the package have met with the stiffest kind of opposition. There has been determined objection to the proposal that tax deductions for such costs as mortgage interest and contributions to charity be strictly limited.

On a broader base than this, tabulations show that the proposed cuts in individual income taxes would amount to relatively little for the average family. There is a feeling, in major business circles that a tax program which would substantially spur the economy must be more favorable in its attitude toward the investment community.

On a still broader base, there is a fear that tax cuts without reductions in government spending would be dangerous and unsound. And there is the real rub.

Nation's Business quotes various people's views on this aspect of the problem. Typical examples: A Kansas City man said, "A tax cut alone would only be like taking an aspirin: relief, but no cure. But a tax cut plus a cut in spending would give the country a boost like we haven't had in a long time." A New York woman said, "I can't afford for our household all the idealistic programs that would be nice for us as a family. And Mr. Kennedy can't afford for my country all the idealistic programs he proposes."

Finally, the influential Senator McClellan has said that "Continued excessive spending can only result in chaos and fiscal disaster." He is not alone, by any means, in that view.

State Money Isn't Free

A concerned effort is being made by various groups, to prevail upon the legislature to increase the state aid for schools from the present $252 per pupil in daily average attendance to $297. Incidentally the $297 figure is a compromise. More was asked.

Postal cards were being handed out in the area last week addressed to the legislators urging their support of House Bill 1097. This is the measure that would increase state aid.

Accompanying the cards was a note. It warns that if more state aid is not forthcoming "basic programs will be threatened" and that if not passed "local taxes will increase yearly and schools will suffer."

It goes on to say that "anyone who understands even slightly how much schools depend on state aid for better salaries for teachers, visual aids, teaching supplies, custodial salaries and supplies, costs of electricity" should write their state legislators to back the bill.

We might in turn suggest that "anyone who understands even slightly about taxes," should realize by this time that the state and the federal governments have no trick method of getting money off of a tree or out of a well.

The money the federal government tosses around and the money the state gives out comes from your earnings. The revenue a government gets comes from but one source--people, thru taxes.

Somehow we doubt that any state aid given the schools, whether it remains at $252 or zooms to $352 or $552 per pupil would mean any reduction in local taxes. Taxing bodies and people are pretty much alike when it comes to spending--the more they get the more they spend.

We are not at issue with anyone who wants to write his representatives in the legislature and urge support of the bill to increase state aid for the schools. That is their privilege and their own business.

The only thing we are interested in is that the public should understand the money isn't free.

the public is not participating in the present market activity, these analysts note that the recently reported short interest decline, was very small. It is also noted that the odd lot activity was still very much on the selling side as against purchases. On the basis of the theory of "contrary opinion" as to odd lot transactions, there are quite a number of market analysts who believe that the market activity is to be on the buying side rather than the bearish. The opinion is expressed that the public will come into the market as confidence is bolstered by higher earnings and market prices.

Finally the rails are coming back in the market favor after years of disfavor and occupying the position of political whipping boy with few friends in political life. Labor and taxing bodies as well as government subsidized competition with other harrassments, did not make their corporate lives too happy. Also there was little in the way of formally trained railroad operators in such railroad technical training as is offered at the University of Pennsylvania and Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Railroad equipment was purchased thru friendly sources and often without technical checking as to whether materials and equipment were such as to meet laboratory requirements for the particular application intended. Too often labor disputes had the appearance of being "shadow boxing" rather than serious contesting of labor's demands.

The supreme court decision permitting rails greater discretion as to competitive rate making, added to gains in the fight against "feather bedding", are helpful in creating a better investor attitude toward the rails. Advantageous rail mergers are being permitted instead of maligned. Until this reversal in public attitude, it was wondered how soon it would be when investors would simply refuse to invest in railroads or their equipment. This would have been an unfortunate happening.

Indications are that the investing public is likely to feel that the background for profitable investment opportunities, can be found in this market.

WILL CROSS WABASH

The Illinois state highway department has obtained permission from the state commerce commission to cross the Wabash railroad tracks at Marley with federal aid highway 80. The statement concerning this says "extend FAI 80 over the tracks," which would indicate that the highway is going to do the crossing.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

Don't be surprised any day now to hear a fanfare of trumpets broadcast from the nation's capital and the voice of Postmaster General Day proclaim that this is the time--not to come to the aid of the party but to mail your Christmas cards and packages.

The good postmaster general is moaning low, claiming a foul by Congress. That usually liberal handed body that has been wiping out deficits in the post-office appropriation for years and years, is now regarding Mr. Day's request for a full money diet with cold eyes.

He insists that Congress give him the entire $5-billion appropriation he is asking and Congress is talking of trimming it down.

Mr. Day says unless he gets the full $5-billion he is going to have to reduce the services of the post office is now giving. As far as we have been able to ascertain he has not yet gone so far as to threaten to remove the ballpoint pens from post office lobbies but he has said that if all the money is not forthcoming there will be no more home and business deliveries on Saturdays.

Such a move would result in the carriers having heavier bags to carry on Mondays but Mr. Day is not too concerned about that and with reason, because when one gets right down to it he doesn't have to tote a bag.

People who have to go to a post office to get their mail are not likely to launch any uprising if the Saturday deliveries are banned and as for those who get home delivery it shouldn't make too much difference.

Your correspondent, for example, sometimes get mail that has been wandering around for a couple of weeks and last January when the thermometer had been registering zero or lower for a week or so he was somewhat surprised to read in a letter from Kansas City that the temperature had been over a hundred degrees for several days but was supposed to remain down in the low 90's for the remainder of the week.

Your correspondent is well aware that Kansas City has hot weather but not in January and anyway he had just read a news item dealing with a blizzard in Kansas and Missouri so he looked at the postmark. The letter had been mailed in July.

Just recently a Chicago woman received a postcard that had been nine years in coming from Colorado and we recall getting a letter containing an inquiry about a want ad that had been around eight years traversing the five miles between New Lenox and Mokena.

With trucks replacing the trains in the transport of mail in the area it now takes a couple of days to send a letter from Mokena to Tinley Park or vice versa.

So whether or not there are Saturday deliveries doesn't seem to make a great deal of difference, from a practical standpoint.

From time to time the post office department at Washington sends out publicity releases describing some new type of machine that will cancel and sort mail and do everything but deliver it.

No doubt some inventor has a machine worked out, a sort of superduper catapult, that placed at strategic points could hurl mail direct to homes, thus eliminating carriers and a lot of post offices. But we doubt if it would be practical--too many broken windows, black-eyes and squashed noses, especially in hurling big, fat catalogs and magazines.

But getting back to the no Saturday delivery business if Mr. Day does halt them we figure that in time there will be quite a backlog of mail built up because the thing is bound to snowball.

That is why we expect to get the word to mail early for Christmas--say by Memorial Day. That should give Mr. Day time to get the stuff delivered by Dec. 25.

What will happen to the Mother's Day mail remains to be seen. Mother's Day is only 10 days off. But try it anyway. If the card doesn't get there by May 12 it will get there eventually.

And what would be a nicer surprise for the Fourth of July or Thanksgiving than a card for Mother's Day?

AN APPRECIATIVE PARENT

Dear Sir:

I had an experience last Saturday that I wish everyone who pays taxes to the Lincoln-Way high school district could experience sometime and I think they would feel that their tax dollars were being used to the best advantage for our young people in their education. It is true that this was an experience with an extra curricular activity, but I feel these cannot function in this manner if the whole school does not function in the same manner. This experience occurred at the finals of the state music contest at the Joliet township high school.

It was a thrill each time one of the Lincoln-Way contestant groups appeared on the stage to perform. They were well disciplined, looked great and performed even greater. First of all, there was the applause that accompanied each entrance by parents and other students. They were all proud of their entrants, regardless of the rating.

I think each of these contests or games that a Lincoln-Way team or group is in should be backed by the entire student body and the parents. You will all be proud of their appearance, their conduct and their performance. Cheer them on, whether it is a major sports event, minor sports you don't hear much about, band or choruses, debate or an F.F.A. event. Be proud of them as you know they will do their very best and they will be encouraged by your support.

All this reflects back to the Lincoln-Way high school and to its administration. We don't hear much about this part of our school, but ask any student about the discipline and the way the school is run. It doesn't just happen, it all goes back to A. Hunter Chapman and the people he has under him to carry out his policy for the school. Mr. Chapman stays in the background and takes pride in the accomplishments of his school. He saves us money by spending what he has very wisely.

It is too bad he can't pay salaries to keep the fine people we have as key personnel who have made Lincoln-Way the great school it is.

Think about it--students, parents and taxpayers! Go to the contests and exhibitions our students are in. Support them and encourage them. Give credit to them and to their leaders. You will be proud of their performances and especially their conduct. Cheer them on and be very proud of your school.

A BAND PARENT

THANK YOU

Dear Sir:

First of all, let me offer to you my sincere thanks and congratulations for your recent editorial dealing with the responsibilities of the citizens and board members toward their respective schools. Your ideas were in keeping with the policies of the Illinois School Board Association and of the Illinois Association of School Administrators.

I also wanted to express my appreciation to you for your splendid school-newspaper cooperation along with your interest in the growth and development of the Lincoln-Way community high school.

Every school district is constantly faced with the difficult problem in keeping all the local citizens informed. Certainly these people have every right to receive regular reports regarding the expenditures of their tax dollars along with the improvement in the overall educational program. Citizens should never have any difficulty receiving whatever information they desire and making certain such information is accurate.

There are many answers open for expanding these channels of communication: our local newspapers, P.T.G. meetings, visiting schools, their extra-curricular programs, attending board meetings, and checking with the administration or with any board member. I am sure you will find everyone more than willing to provide the answer.

During the next few months while the new building addition is under construction, we trust everyone will take an active interest in the school along with the improvements in the academic program.

The board of education is anxious to serve the public to the best of their ability, and to constantly strive for a better school.

Thanks once again for your very fine cooperation.

Sincerely,
A. Hunter Chapman

Perch, Pike Or Salmon Walleyes Taste Good

DAVID H. THOMPSON
(Cook Co. Forest Preserve)
Senior Naturalist

The Walleye is king of game fish in the eyes of many Illinois sportsmen. To find, hook and land this fighting fish challenges the skill of most expert anglers. Some fish the fast waters below dams and rapids on the rivers of their home state--the Kankakee, The Rock, the Fox and the Upper Mississippi where it forms the boundary with Iowa. Other Illinois anglers, by the thousands, spend their vacations fishing for walleyes in the cool lakes and streams of our neighboring states to the north and in Canada. Unfortunately, Cook county has no swift rivers nor cool, clear lakes. The north end of Lake Michigan has good walleye fishing but this south part of the lake has none.

The walleye is not only a superb game fish but it is also one of our choicest food fishes. The flesh is white, firm and fine-flavored--whether baked, broiled or fried. Commercial fishermen using nets catch and ship them by the millions of pounds from the waters of the Lake States and Canada. Over three million pounds of them are sold annually on the Chicago wholesale market and more than a half million pounds of a smaller species of walleye called the Sauger.

Other common names for the walleye--such as wall-eyed pike, pike-perch, yellow pike and jack salmon--are misleading because this fish is neither a pike nor a salmon. The name walleye refers to its large glassy eyes which, like cat's eyes, allow it to feed in dim light at night. The jaws and roof of the mouth are armed with numerous needle-like teeth. Like other members of the perch family, the yellow perch and the little darters, it has two separate fins on the back--the one in front supported by sharp, bony spines and the other by soft flexible rods.

Soon after the ice melts in spring the spawning fish come into shallow water at night. There the female scatters her eggs at random, perhaps 100,000 of them, over rocky reefs, sandbars or gravel bottom, then leaves them unattended. In about two weeks the tiny young hatch and, after the yolk sac is absorbed, begin to feed on microscopic animal life. As they grow they shift to a diet of water fleas, insects, crayfish and minnows. The adults eat large quantities of fish.

Most of the catches, both hook-and-line and commercial, range from one to five pounds in weight when they are 14 to 24 inches long and 3 to 7 years old. Twelve to fifteen years is extreme old age. The world's record walleye weighing 22 lbs. 4 oz. was taken on rod and reel from Lake Erie at Fort Erie, Ontario in 1943.

The yellow perch is the darling of those disciples of Izaak Walton that relax on Chicago's lake front and breakwaters from the warm days of spring until the frosts of autumn. They fish with poles and lines, handlines, or little trolleys which carry their hooks into deeper water. The preferred baits are small minnows, crayfish tails and worms, in that order. Fishing is best in early morning and late afternoon when the perch come near shore to feed.

The yellow perch is also called Ringed Perch because of the seven dusky bars that cross the yellow or brassy green sides. In early spring the females lay eggs in long, flat, ribbon-like masses on sandbars and submerged vegetation. Seven years is a ripe old age when they are about 13 inches long and weigh a pound.

The Fox Chain O'Lakes, just north of Cook County, offers good perch fishing but they are scarce in other Illinois waters. Like the walleye, the yellow perch reaches its greatest abundance in the lakes of our northern states and Canada where they support a large-scale commercial fishery. Over a half million pounds of these weighing 1/2 to 3/4 pound each, are shipped into the Chicago markets. Few dishes can compare with a mess of perch fried to a golden brown.

Allah does not deduct from man's allotted time those hours spent fishing.

Business & Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The over-all business picture is reported as being good and improving steadily. The stock market has been reflecting the better business picture expected in the months ahead. However, the market analysts express belief that the professionals have been the controlling factor in the advance and that the public has not participated to any major degree at this point.

It has been noted that the advance has been concentrated in the so-called blue chips and secondary issues have been lagging in market activity. Many analysts have been insisting that the blue chip advance could not be sustained without an advance in the secondary issues. Predictions are now rather general, that there will be a consolidation in the averages before the expected summer rally and this next rally will be in the secondary issues. The Dow Jones Industrials are selling at a price-earnings ratio of about 19 1/2 times earnings and a large number of stocks are selling at prices which are on a much lower price-earnings ratio.

One of the biggest complaints about cut flowers, particularly roses is that they do not keep long enough. Whether it be roses from your neighborhood florist, or from your own garden, you will be surprised what proper handling can do to make them last.

Be sure the roses you cut or those you purchase are at the proper stage of opening. Flowers too far open have lost some of their cut flower life; those too tight might not open at all. The proper state is fairly tight with one petal beginning to curl back.

Roses need plenty of water, so select a deep container. Fill the container with warm (100 degree) water in which you have mixed a floral preservative. Floral preservatives are quite new in the flower industry but have been shown by research at several Universities to notably improve the cut flower life of roses. They are available from your florist under a variety of brand names.

As you cut your roses, plunge them immediately into the water. (If you receive roses from the florist, cut off one inch of the bottom of the stem).

Set the container in a cool place for several hours to allow the flowers to harden off and begin picking up water.

When the flowers are hardened off they can be set out for display or can be used for arrangements. Be sure to cut off the stems each time you remove the flowers from the water, and always use floral preservatives.

This treatment should double the life of your cut roses. For even longer enjoyment, set the container of flowers in a cool place each night. This will stop development of the flowers during the night so they will last longer during the day.

Remember, cut flowers are living creatures and like life itself are here and then gone. I am sure a good part of the charm of roses is the fact that you receive them as buds. They mature, they die and they become a sweet memory before you have forgotten the meaning of the occasion.

As with so many of the spices in life, they are treasured so long as you receive only fleeting glimpses of them. When overdone, you soon tire of them.

Cradle Models Will Be Guests At Springtime Luncheon On May 22

Young Chicagoland women accepting the most coveted invitation in Chicago's society world to model in the famous Cradle benefit fashion show next autumn - will be feted at a springtime luncheon at the Casino on Wednesday, May 22.

Among the four members of the Cradle's South Suburban auxiliary who will be guests at the luncheon is Mrs. Clyde Johnson of Oak Lawn, who has accepted an invitation to model in the show.

Other South Suburban women attending the luncheon will be Mrs. Guy Clayton of Flossmoor, South Suburban chairman for the benefit; Mrs. Norman Lund of Orland Park, the auxiliary's president; and Mrs. James Brown of Park Forest, South Suburban publicity chairman.

Hostesses at the event honoring the models will be members of the Cradle Advisory Board, among whom are Mrs. Philip D. Armour, Mrs. Seymour Wheeler, and Mrs. Robert B. Woods. Miss Elizabeth Arden will also be here from New York to add her welcome to the models who will experience next fall the thrill of introducing newest fashions from her fabulous salon.

The models' luncheon will serve, too, to introduce the pink and ruby theme commemorating the 40th anniversary of The Cradle. Pink, the Society's "color," will key room and table decorations. Pretty-pink umbrellas carried by Cradle workers to draw attention to the benefit will be repeated in the flower centerpiece and carry out the springtime theme.

The Elizabeth Arden-Cradle fashion show-luncheon, to be held on Oct. 16 at the International Ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel, is a top drawing annual event in Chicago for benefit of the Evanston adoption agency.

The ruby, symbol of the 40th anniversary, will take on added significance with the announcement that actual jewels will be auctioned at the fashion show, and it is expected that the models will dazzle with a display of more than a million dollars' worth of rubies from the collection of H. Horwitz Jewelers.

Among the models chosen to participate in the show are Mrs. James F. Ott, who also modeled when she was Tina Cassinero, and Miss Carol Haider, whose engagement was announced recently. Miss Lee Phillip, who has commented the show in other years, will tread the runway this time. Mrs. Roger Bessinger, Mrs. Bruce Norris, Mrs. Charles Percy, Mrs. Arthur Appleton, and others are among those who have modeled before for the Cradle and who have accepted again for this year's show.

All of Chicago's suburbs are represented in The Cradle's eight auxiliaries now actively working under chairman Mrs. Walter N. Stucklagger of Northfield, to bring the annual benefit to new success.

A man used to be considered a good farmer if he planted corn in straight rows and cultivated out all the weeds. Now he is considered a good farmer if his profits are high regardless of how straight his rows are. If weeds threaten to cut yields, he can get rid of them with herbicides. Since farming is now a business, not just a way of life, more farmers need good farm records.

Farming for "show" instead of farming for "dough" can be disastrous. While show may have been important in obtaining a loan at one time, it takes facts and figures from good farm records to convince lenders today. More and more farmers are finding it difficult to operate without borrowed money. This money can be the difference between staying in the farming business and being forced out.

Metallic zinc paint is still the best one-coat protection for rusted galvanized steel. To get a reflective surface, use metallic zinc paint for the first coat and exterior white paint for the finish coat.

Have your well water tested to prove that it is still pure. Getting a report back from the lab saying the water is fit for drinking proves that here were no bacteria in the sample.

Now is the time to clip waterways and patch gullies for the coming season. A dry spring sometimes indicates a wet summer ahead.

If you enjoy growing melons in your garden, remember: Muskmelons and watermelons produce best on well-drained sandy soils, and cucumber beetles spread bacterial wilt that affects melons, says a University of Illinois horticulturist.

A corn kernel is about four times as large as the average weed seed and can be planted deeper than normal in coarse minimum-tilled seedbeds.

Before taking down storm windows and putting up screens, check your ladder. Make sure it's a safe, sturdy one, says a University of Illinois safety specialist.

Horses should be vaccinated against encephalitis (sleeping sickness) before the mosquito season begins. Encephalitis, transmitted from birds to horses or from mosquitoes to people, is highly dangerous. Horses that survive may show brain damage and, unless vaccinated each year, remain susceptible to attacks of different strains if bitten by mosquito carriers. The western strain is most prevalent in Illinois, but if horses are to be moved east they should be vaccinated against both eastern and western strains.

When the Mokena park board took inventory of Community Park needs for the coming season it found that 15 more picnic tables were required.

Since the Industrial Arts Club of Lincoln-Way high had already built the tables that were in use the park board turned to them again to do the job.

The park district furnished the material and the boys went to work - in the evenings on their own time. Working on an assembly line basis they cut to size and shape the 240 parts required.

Parts were then fitted together in sub-assemblies, using factory type processes and fixtures. The final operation put the sub-assemblies together and the 15 picnic tables were hauled out to the park.

The Lincoln-Way Industrial Arts club has been noted for its service to projects for school and community and has received several state awards for projects they have completed.

Hassle Marks Decision On Vote Canvass By N.L. Board

Evans Drotts has been declared elected over Eugene McGovney in the New Lenox village election for trustee. Drotts was not the only official declared elected, of course, but the vote between he and McGovney was the only one in dispute.

The other officials declared elected are Mayor Stanley Gilmore, Trustees Chester Bowman and Robert Bishop, and Village Clerk Robert J. McCleary. Bishop is a new member of the board. The others were all incumbents.

The election was held April 16 but the returns were not declared official until Wednesday night of last week and only then after a long and sometimes heated discussion.

Trustees Eugene Hunt and Robert Randolph take the position that the election returns were not made legally and therefore are not valid.

Hunt declared that he would consult an attorney to pursue the matter further.

The hassle began May 1 at the regular meeting of the village board. Mayor Gilmore named Trustees Randolph and Don Anderson as a committee to canvass the returns. They were the only members who had not been candidates. Hunt had been a candidate for mayor, and Bowman, McGovney, and Drotts had all sought reelection.

The two trustees reported back after an interval that the tally marks on one tally sheet gave Drotts 336 votes while the marks on the other totaled 341. McGovney's tally was 338 on both sheets. This would make Drotts a winner by three votes on one sheet and a loser by two votes on the other. Unofficial returns had given him a three-vote margin, 341 to 338.

Unable to declare a winner in the face of this discrepancy the council adjourned until May 8. The judges of election were asked to be present at that meeting to explain what had happened.

So last week the judges were on hand. They pointed out that the numerals after the names of the candidates giving the total vote each had received were the same on both sheets,

Drotts 341 and McGovney 338 but that in putting down the tally marks they had failed to fill in one square. They were sorry that a mistake had been made. When the meeting opened the mayor said that he was relieving the committee of the task of reporting on the returns and would substitute the whole board as the committee. Randolph objected to that. He and Hunt

Little League

To Raise Funds

Thru A Circus

The Little League of Arbury Hills is sponsoring the appearance there of Sells Brothers circus, according to the advance man of the show. The circus is coming May 31 and is to show at U.S. 45 and 191st street. There will be two performances - rain or shine - one at 2:30 and the other at 8 p.m.

Sells Brothers is a three-ring affair and bills itself as the "Greatest Bargain Show on Earth." The circus has greatly enlarged its tent, it was explained, so this permits the addition of a substantial number of seats.

"Make the price attractive and keep those seats filled, are the orders we follow," the advance man said. "We have just two prices, a dollar for adults and half a dollar for children. That way the entire family can afford to see the show."

The circus representative added that while the admission price has been cut that is the only thing about the circus that has been reduced.

"The circus offers more of everything than ever before," he said, "a full 90 minutes of continuous, ever-changing entertainment in all three rings."

"Among the headline acts on the show are the 'Whiz Kids,' on the high unicycles, Sir Eicardo of juggling fame, Mavis and Sheri, aerialists and numerous others, including Kathleen Stevens presenting Sells Brothers troupe of elephants." There are clowns, of course, and wild animals so one is assured of all the things that make up a circus, the glitter, the color, the thrills and the smell.

had conferred with County Clerk Clara Hartley Woodard and had been informed that the election laws required that tally sheets be complete and matching.

The New Lenox tally sheets, they pointed out, not only showed a discrepancy in the tally marks but failed to show the total number of ballots delivered, the number of ballots returned, absentee ballots cast, and the number of spoiled or disputed ballots.

They contended that in the face of what they described as incomplete returns the election was invalid.

Gilmore countered there was only a technical error and didn't see what calling another election, at considerable expense to the village, could accomplish.

Trustee Bowman had made a motion to accept the explanation of the election judges and to declare Gilmore, Bishop, Bowman, Drotts, and McCleary duly elected. McGovney had seconded the motion but it wasn't until considerable debate that a vote was had on the motion. Randolph asked Village Attorney William Penn for an opinion on the motion.

"Is it your recommendation that the village board accept these incomplete tally sheets as final returns on the election?" Randolph demanded of Penn. "It is not my position to make policy," Penn replied, "that..."

"Don't double talk me," Randolph interrupted, "the village is paying you $800 a year and I think that entitles us to a simple yes or no answer."

"I am trying to tell you," Pen interjected, "I have nothing to do with making policy, that is a function of the village board. If the board wants to accept the explanation of the judges and approve the returns its action would be legal."

On the motion to accept the returns Anderson, Bowman, Drotts and McGovney voted aye and Hunt and Randolph voted no. Village Clerk Robert J. McCleary then swore in the newly elected officers and in turn Drotts, who is a notary public, administered the oath of office to McCleary.

Randolph said he was "not very proud to sit on such a board."

The judges of election said they felt their honesty and integrity had been questioned but board members assured them their honesty was not at issue. "If we failed to fill out the tally sheets as stated here," one of the judges declared, "it was because we never received any instructions as to how to perform our duties."

When Your Garden's Shady

A single flower of the new impatiens called Tangerine for the bright blossom color.

When your garden's shady you should grow the plants that thrive in such a situation rather than try your temper growing those that need many hours of sunlight to perform their best.

Two annuals that will make your shaded garden colorful and a delight to behold are impatiens (you may call this plant impatiens or sultana) and coleus.

Impatiens comes in small, low-growing varieties and in taller ones too so, you can back the one with the other and have a graded planting of this one flower.

Not only does size vary, but flower colors offer a wide choice. For instance, there are red, rose, pink, white, scarlet-orange, lavender, and even tangerine-colored. Lower all available on plants with the same neat, dark green leaves.

If you wish a wider variety of form and color, add coleus to impatiens. Coleus is grown primarily for its foliage, though it also has slender spikes of lavender flowers which are attractive and bloom over a long period.

Just as flower colors vary in impatiens, so do leaf colors in coleus. If plants are grown from a seed mixture, there will be hardly more than a few alike in the planting. But it also is possible to color scheme your shaded area by growing coleus from seeds of selected strains so that all the plants you grow will have similar coloring.

Thus you might use coleus which has rose and purple leaves as a background for pink and rose-flowered impatiens or coleus with yellow and green leaves with lavender-flowered impatiens. Many more color schemes can be worked out using just these two plants in all their variations.

Substitutes For Water Cress

The requirements for growing water cress include a brook or pond with cold, clear water and thus are not available to every gardener. However, anyone with even enough space to plant a single row of seeds can grow a near relative called upland cress.

There are two kinds of upland cress, one with curly leaves and one with plain leaves. Either will be usable in salads or for a garnish.

Plant seeds from the time seeds are sown. Plant seeds in early spring, spacing them so there are half a dozen seeds to the inch and covering them with not more than a quarter inch of soil. They need no special care, only a sunny situation in fairly good soil. You'll be pleased with their pungent flavor, so much like that of genuine water cress.

GOP To Fete Outstanding Members Monday Night

On Monday evening, May 20, Republicans from throughout Will County will gather in the Chantilly room at D'Amico's "214" in Joliet to pay honor to four "Outstanding Will County Republicans."

The dinner, sponsored by the Will County Young Republicans, will be the first of what is planned to be an annual GOP Service Awards banquet.

James D. Hall, Will County YR president, announced that Terrence Ryan, of Joliet, has been appointed general chairman for the dinner. Ryan is an installment loan officer of the Union National Bank in Joliet.

The four awards to be presented will honor: (1) The Outstanding Republican Precinct Committeeman of the Year; (2) The Outstanding Republican Man of the Year; (3) The Outstanding Republican Woman of the Year; (4) The Outstanding Young Republican of the Year.

Nominations for the awards are being submitted by GOP precinct committeemen and other Republican leaders in the county.

Awards will be based on the individual's service and loyalty to the Republican party and to its principles and objectives as well as participation and service in community affairs. According to Ryan the awards are

CSF Offers Wide Range Of Subjects For Summer

Students in English can select from survey of English literature, introduction to prose, Shakespeare and survey of American literature. Demonstrating Fabric Color Spraying Here

Demonstrations of fabric color spraying will be held at Bergman Paint store, 6783 W. 174th St., Tinley Park, on Saturday, May 18.

If you would like to put new life into old, dull furniture fabrics, a visit to the store will be worthwhile.

The sprayed solution comes in 15 colors and can be used on many types of furniture and accessories.

designed "to give formal recognition to the so called grassroots workers of the party, to those who have contributed so much time and effort to the furtherance of the local GOP party."

Harry Leinenweber, chairman of the judges' committee, has selected a panel of judges representing all phases of the local Republican party. The judges' committee will remain unknown to all but Leinenweber.

Ryan has appointed the following committee heads: Robert Brink, nominations; George Michas, arrangements; LeRoy W. Latz, tickets; and Jean Freeburg, publicity.

Tickets for the banquet are $5 per person and are available thru Latz or any of the Republican township supervisors in the county.

ISNU Plans Workshops

Off-campus centers where Illinois State Normal university plans to hold classes and workshops this summer have been announced by Dr. Francis R. Brown director of the division of extension and field services.

They include: Peoria, Princeton, Springfield, Spring Valley, Taylorville, and White Hall, Cambridge, Danville, and Springfield will serve as centers for both sessions, June 10-28 and July 1-19. Class work at each of the others will be for a single term.

An effort is made to offer courses requested by teachers and administrators on-the-job in their home communities. Dr. Brown points out that courses are assigned to centers where it is apparent that enrollment and need justify the service.

Some 1,500 different students enroll in ISNU extension classes in a single year.

While this summer over half the work is for undergraduate students, a number of the courses are for either undergraduate or graduate credit. Each course or workshop, completed in a three-week period, carries three semester hours of credit.

Registration in all centers will begin at 9 a.m. on the first day of the session work is scheduled, with the class starting then as well. Regular hours of class meeting will be determined after the class is organized.

Since it is necessary to limit the enrollment in extension classes, Dr. Brown urges that intentions to enroll be filed prior

Tuesday, May 21, will be a very important day---for wheat growers, for other farmers and for all citizens. It is the date that has been set for voting upon the proposed national wheat marketing quotas for the 1964 crop.

This election is important to wheat growers -- because its outcome will affect their incomes in 1964. It is important to all farmers -- because it is likely to influence the shape of future government programs for wheat and for many other farm products. It is of concern to all citizens -- because it will affect the price of food and the cost of farm programs.

Some publicity material indicates that the farmers' choice is simple -- vote "yes" and get $2 for wheat, or "no" and get $1. This, we believe, is misleading tho the returns from wheat will probably be considerably greater in 1964 if the marketing quotas are approved than if they are turned down.

The same acreage allotments will be in effect for the 1964 wheat crop regardless of which way wheat growers vote. These allotments will be about 10 percent smaller than those in effect for the 1963 crop.

Now, suppose that marketing quotas are approved by the necessary two-thirds of the wheat growers voting. Then price-support loans will be available at about $1.30 a bushel (national average) on all wheat grown on the allotted acres. In addition there will be direct payments of about 70 cents a bushel, but these payments will be made only on 80 percent of the "normal production" of the allotted acres, as determined by the county officials.

Returns from any additional wheat would be only the $1.30 loan level or the market price, whichever the farmer chooses.

But suppose that the marketing quotas are not approved. Then the price-support loan level would be around $1.25 a bushel. This support rate would apply to all of the wheat produced by any farmer who plants within his acreage allotment. There would be no direct payments. The market price might be lower, or possibly higher, than the support level. Farmers who planted in excess of their

to the first class meetings. This may be done by writing the Director of University Extension and Field Services or by notifying the local sponsors.

Further information about the off-campus program can be supplied by Dr. Brown at ISNU and county superintendents.

Tuesday, May 21, will be a very important day---for wheat growers, for other farmers and for all citizens. It is the date that has been set for voting upon the proposed national wheat marketing quotas for the 1964 crop.

This election is important to wheat growers -- because its outcome will affect their incomes in 1964. It is important to all farmers -- because it is likely to influence the shape of future government programs for wheat and for many other farm products. It is of concern to all citizens -- because it will affect the price of food and the cost of farm programs.

Girl Scouts Hold Rally
On International ThemeMRS. EDWARD HOVI
479-5740

The annual Girl Scout rally of Trailways council was held at the Joliet township high school, May 5. The two-hour show saw the performances of many of the local Brownie Scout and Girl Scout troops.

The general theme of the rally was: "The Trefoll Around the World".

The rally was opened by the ceremony of presenting the flag followed by the candlelight renewal of the Girl Scout Oath.

The rally was closed by the retiring of the flag complete with the singing of taps by the assembled group on stage of both Brownie Scouts and Girl Scouts. All in all the audience was shown an impressive, entertaining, and charming afternoon.

The Teens club sent their volunteers on a door to door canvass of Arbury Hills on Sunday, May 5, in behalf of the Danny Thomas leukemia fund drive for the Saint Jude hospital.

The Arbury Hills Civic Association held their May meeting at the school on Tuesday, May 7. A good turnout was in evidence easily establishing the necessary voting quorum. Committee reports were given first by Jim Lillie on the Little League benefit dance which netted exactly $408.50 after expenses.

The second committee report was given by Dick Prather, president of the Arbury Hills Baseball League. There are still not enough paid up boys in the nine to 12 age bracket to be sanctioned by the Little League even though they may apply at a later date if the number is great enough then. More adult workers are needed to put the program into full action. Men are needed for both coaches and umpires. The umpires equipment will be furnished by the baseball league. Any men willing to give of their time can contact Dick Prather at 479-3451 to volunteer.

The baseball field has been rough graded by Ed Feeley, the contractor, and final grading of the field has been promised, so that it will meet specifications. Mr. Feeley has also promised to furnish material for the back stop, and upon presentation to him of the necessary plans, will have the back stop erected by his men.

The baseball league, thus far, has a working capital of $587.71 from all sources, including the $3.50 sign-up fees. The committee is now in the process of locating the needed athletic equipment for the boys and the umpires at the least possible cost. The committee is also investigating the cost of insurance on the boys.

Following the committee reports and the reading of the secretary's minutes for the last meeting, the subject of the annual picnic was brought up. The president, Dan Markowski, asked for volunteers to work on the picnic committee, after much persuasion, seven members "volunteered", they are: Richard Tomczak, who also volunteered his wife, Arlene Tomczak, Jim Miuccio, Francis Crones, who volunteered his wife, Carolyn Crones, Archie Estes, and Paul Menzer. A short committee meeting was held following the meeting to divide the committee into each category of the picnic details. A committee meeting was set up to be held at the home of Francis Crones of 9402 West Ash on Thursday, May 23.

Attorney A.H. Krusemark of Frankfort will speak at the June meeting on the aspects of incorporation for Arbury Hills. This should prove to be an informative meeting which will be held at the school on Tuesday, June 4, at 8:00 p.m.

After the business at hand was completed, the president introduced Mr. Feeley, who had come to the meeting to discuss the necessity of the proposed water rate increase now under consideration with the ICC. Mr. Feeley stated that since October 1962 the Arbury Utilities Co. has lost a total of $40,000 due mainly to the cost of softening the water. He explained that originally the water rates had been established on the assumption that the water would be unsoftened.

The utilities company is asking an increase of 30 cents per thousand gallons of water and an increase of $1 per month for sewer charge.

In the course of the questioning, Mr. Feeley answered other questions pertaining to Arbury Hills, but not concerning the water works. He said, in answer to one question, that the shopping center is scheduled to be ready for occupancy this fall. He also said that Willow Lane would be re-graded and oiled down this month, but that the county would not accept and maintain the road as long as there were heavy trucks being driven on it. Therefore, the road will not, at this time, be permanently paved.

In conclusion, he stated that, a refusal by the ICC of the requested rate increase would necessitate the shutting down of the softening system, since a constant loss is not consistent with good business sense.

The Summit Hill Parent-Teacher Group held the final meeting of this term at the school on Thursday, May 9. Installation of officers was held with the immediate past president, Mrs. Elma Lauffer, presiding as tradition dictates. John Smith was installed as president, and then proceeded to conduct the meeting.

Mrs. Hyman Kronick, the retiring president, gave a summary of the past years accomplishments. The refreshments were served by the first grade mothers. The attendance award was given to the seventh grade for having the greatest percentage of attendance by the parents at the meeting.

The meeting was adjourned until Sept. 13.

The graduation will be held on Saturday evening, June 1, at 8:00 p.m. There will be 24 eighth graders graduated.

The graduates are in the process of raising the necessary capital for a dinner at Valley View Farm on May 29, a Wednesday evening.

Besides the graduates there will be Mr. Reeves the eighth grade teacher, Supt. and Mrs. H. James Wrath, and the two room mothers and their husbands. The scholarship award will be presented at this time.

The Bingo Club will have its get together tonight, (May 16) at the home of Mrs. John Hayden of 9436 West Pine ave., at 8 o'clock.

The Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization will hold the May meeting at the school on Tuesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. At that time the newly elected officers will take over. There will be a discussion of the establishment of a fall session of the kindergarten for the five year olds.

The Kindergarten Group is pleased to announce that a teacher has been obtained for the summer session. After two sets of interviews, Mrs. Homer Howard of Joliet has been selected to teach the kindergarten this summer. Mrs. Howard is a qualified teacher of kindergarten with five years of experience.

All parents of the kindergarten children are reminded to set up the physical examinations and the dental examinations, so that they may be turned in on the first day of school.

Kindergarten will open on Wednesday morning, June 5, at 9 o'clock. Classes will be held from 9 until 11:30 Monday thru Friday. The kindergarten will remain in session from June 5 thru Aug. 2. If the teacher deems it more feasible, the time may be changed to 8:30 to 11 o'clock.

If there is any other mother wishing to have her child attend this kindergarten, contact Mrs. John Hayden at 479-9350 and your application will be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. James Lillie of 19619 Catulpa became the parents of their third child, another boy, whom they named Michael Stephan. He was born at the Christ Community Hospital in Evergreen Park on Wednesday, April 24. He was a small five pounds nine ounces at birth.

Jim and Lillian have two other boys besides the new-comer, Ken who is 10 and David who is 15 months old. Mr. and Mrs. William O'Neill and their three older children, Billy, Coleen, and Peggy, of 19327 South Oak Street attended the wedding of Mrs. O'Neill's brother Edward Dolan to Miss Maureen Golden at the Little Flower church in Chicago. The O'Neill children were then taken to friends while Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill attended the dinner reception at the Martineque Restaurant.
